

It had been years since I was self-supportive. I was staying here and there, “couch surfing” I called it. I began volunteering at The CARE Center and shortly after I was offered a part time job at The CARE Center Thrift Store. It felt so good to be working a steady job again! When (The CARE Center) budget allowed, they were good enough to up my hours where I earned enough to finally get my own place again. Thanks to The CARE Center, I am fully self-supportive & independent. I have a greater respect for myself than I had had in years before. I can’t express my gratitude enough!!
